A FEW WORDS FROM YOURS TRULY

It's been slightly over five years since my personal life changed forever – and which would also alter my professional career. And it's still changing – no more so than the last fifteen months, when I managed to get two books written and published during that time span (or three, if you count the Special Edition of Beyond The Unknown that was published this past summer – and if you're still not familiar with BTU*, please read Page 4 of this very issue)* – launch three new channels on YouTube – and plot my creative course for the near-future and beyond that.

The cover of this very issue should give you a good idea of what I'm planning towards year's end – and if it doesn't, I advise you to please read the Book Bungalow section elsewhere in this very issue. And that's just the beginning, especially as Halloween, Thanksgiving, Christmas, etc. are fast approaching.

And as for what I'll unleash in the upcoming new year? All I'll say this – just read this very issue to learn more. Not to mention visiting yours truly all around the Internet. (It'll be more entertaining – and enlightening – than watching a certain cable TV news channel with the initials FNC*, which has already worn out its welcome!)*

Until next month –
