A FEW WORDS FROM YOURS TRULY

As I write this, the Fourth of July's almost twenty-four hours away – and I'm definitely looking forward to it. (And that's after going on two extensive vacation trips in the past month.) But that doesn't mean that I've been faltering in terms of creative ideas – and this month, I plan to resume working on my creative projects, including my current novel, THE JANUS TERROR (and please visit my BOOK BUNGALOW page in this very issue for more news on that!).

And that's not all. There's also my BEYOND THE UNKNOWN comic book project on Patreon, which I hope you'll greatly support (to learn more about that, please visit the BTU BAILIWICK page – also in this very issue). Not to mention a few surprises that I plan on unleashing before the end of this summer.

As usual, I hope that you not only enjoy this issue of LAVERNOICH'S LOUNGE – but also, and of equal importance, purchase some of my wares. In the meantime – keep on web surfin'. (And please don't watch any Reality TV programs which might help get one of its stars elected as U.S. President – please consider that great advice come next year's U.S. Presidential elections, okay?)

HIGHLIGHTS FROM THE 2019 WINSTED LAUREL PARADE

As for why – namely, it's video footage of this year's Laurel Parade from my hometown of Winsted, CT, which you can view exclusively on my Facebook page. If anything else, it'll give you a great look at what's already an annual tradition in Northwestern Connecticut!

SEE YOU NEXT MONTH!
