A FEW WORDS FROM YOURS TRULY

Hello – and welcome to the latest issue of LAVERNOICH'S LOUNGE. As I write this little piece, the first month of 2020's almost ending – and life goes on for all of us, despite the turmoil and tragedy that we can't ignore, like the recent and tragic death of a certain pro basketball superstar and his daughter, who had so much to give during their respective lifetimes, and which have already left a large void, and not just in the hearts and souls of those who loved and knew them best, proof that the unexpected can and does happen, and especially when nobody sees it coming.

All I know is in that the last decade, my life – and those of my immediate family members – changed drastically, especially when my late mother suffered a permanent leg injury over six years ago, which forced her to leave the house that she called home for fifty-seven years for good, and spend her last few years in a nursing home, which was, to a sizable degree, heartbreaking (and which further reinforced our own mortality).

But my family and I – like so many people throughout the world – have long realized that there's one direction to move in: forward. It's never been an easy path to follow – but it's always been the right one, and one that God, and the souls of those already missed, would want us to do. I can only hope that during 2020, all of us move on with our lives – and actually change things for the better, despite the tragedies and obstacles that can't be avoided and forgotten.

THE BOOK BUNGLOW

The latest literary news -- both print & Internet

In case you thought that I've forgotten my other published books -- well --!
(And this section's extended to two pages this month!)

This is LARRY BURROWS -- a beloved mass-media personality who's long since died -- or so the world thinks! But can Burrows really be dead -- and does that also hold true for the secrets that he was supposed to take with him to his grave?

And LARRY BURROWS is but one of the characters caught up in the mystery that's -- THE JANUS TERROR -- and come this Spring, you'll never see many things the same way again!
To learn more about my next book, please click on these links:
