A FEW WORDS FROM YOURS TRULY

Hello -- this is the 25th issue of LAVERNOICH'S LOUNGE, my official newsletter which gives you (more or less) a good idea of what I have to offer creatively, not only now, but in the future as well.

In almost the past few months, the unexpected (and unthinkable) has happened -- but unlike a movie, TV show, or play, the present situation already affecting the entire world can't be resolved within just a few hours, and which is beyond even my talents.

While we can't avoid and ignore what COVID-19's already wrought -- we also can't give up hope that things'll turn out for the better. Fortunately, escapism's one way to help us forget -- if only for a few hours -- the many troubles already facing us, and at the same time, helping to encourage us to deal with not only the present, but also the future,

For my part, I hope to continue to boost both the morale and spirits of everyone who needs a bit of escape from a new and uncertain phase in all our lives -- while never giving up the hope that things will improve for the better, a faith that's existed for centuries, and one that I hope will never fade to black like the final scene in a movie.
